

Canadians congratulate UK on Point of Sale Ban

The Saskatchewan Coalition for Tobacco Reduction (SCTR) has congratulated the UK Government on its commitment to "measures that will protect children, youth and all citizens from the devastation caused by tobacco addiction".

Saskatchewan, Canada, was the second jurisdiction in the world (after Iceland) to implement a ban on tobacco point of sale displays. A spokesman said he had "not heard of any negative outcomes such as businesses closing or staff being let go".